NOTES FROM A VERY SMALL ISLAND

Can Robert Crampton survive as a castaway on a remote Caribbean island with only crabs, mosquitoes and possibly crocodiles for company?
